 NEW NURSERY - - - - - Not yet installed

ALL our Dahlias are well seasoned in cold frames before they are sent out.

We prefer to consign them by passenger train service, as the plants travel so much better by this means, but when necessary to consign by post (outside of the railway delivery area) they are then packed without their pots.

During a busy season it is often necessary to substitute varieties, so clients would greatly help by adding a few names to their order for this purpose.

Orders are executed in rotation, so that we cannot guarantee to despatch late orders by return.

For orders less than £2 in value, packing and carriage are additional items when sent by rail, but if sent by post without pots, no additional charge is made.

Cash with Order is required from unknown correspondents.

Our new Dutch varieties will not be available until 1949.
